Analysis

The channel has a strong subscriber base and significant total views, but the recent performance of the last 12 videos indicates a substantial decline in engagement. The average view count of 2,841 is very low compared to the total views and subscriber count. The lack of likes is concerning, and while there are some comments, the overall engagement is poor. The content strategy appears heavily focused on live streams, some with specific game titles.

This approach may not be optimal for discoverability and sustained growth. Improvement is needed in content strategy, focusing on more engaging and discoverable video types, and actively encouraging audience interaction (likes, comments).
